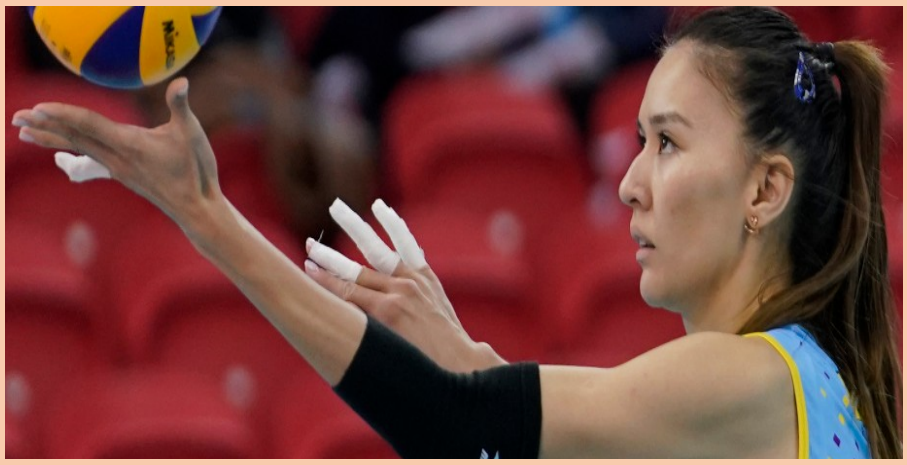
FROM ENGINEERING TO PROFESSIONAL VOLLEYBALL



Kazakhstan national player Sana Anarkulova graduated with a degree in railway engineering and construction, but ultimately chose to pursue her sporting passion of becoming a professional Volleyball athlete. As a successful and determined athlete, Anarkulova is a strong believer of the power of sport. "Sport builds character and you have to be a fighter in life to achieve your goals" – an attribute transferrable in other aspects of life.

Let's hope her story encourages more young athletes to wholeheartedly and bravely pursue their sporting dreams!
